

same same but different.

Samesame but different LGBTQI+ Writers Festival is looking for a Treasurer.

We are a six-year-old festival held each year during Auckland Pride that celebrates a diverse range of creatives from across our communities.

Our festival is run by an energetic board of volunteers, and is looking for another board member with the financial skills to be our treasurer (and who also loves books, and writing of all kinds). This is a volunteer position that requires attendance at monthly online meetings, the provision of advice on funding applications, and the reconciliation of accounts when we report back to our funders. You'll also be a vital contributor at our meetings where we discuss programming with our creative director and all the other matters relating to the festival.

As a board we are committed to reflecting the diversity of our communities and building a broad base of skills to ensure the festival's longevity.

If you think you'd be interested in joining Australasia's only festival for queer writers, then email us at samesamebutdifferentnz@gmail.com